Privacy is important to us. We handle your personal data in accordance with statutory requirements. Below, we would like to inform you about the main points. Responsible data handling is also part of the corporate philosophy of NCA Container und Anlagenbau GmbH.

Collection and storage of personal data

Our offerings and services can largely be used without providing personal data. Further personal information is collected only if you provide it voluntarily, for example as part of an enquiry or job application. Your data is stored in accordance with the applicable retention requirements.

Use, disclosure and deletion of personal data

We use the personal data you provide to answer your enquiries. Your personal data is disclosed, sold or otherwise transferred to third parties only where disclosure is necessary to perform a contract or you have expressly consented. For example, when you place an order, it may be necessary for us to disclose your address and order details to suppliers if the goods are delivered directly to you from the factory. Our suppliers receive only the information necessary to perform their respective tasks. Any other use of this information is prohibited. We are also entitled to disclose personal data for debt collection purposes and reserve the right to exchange data with business protection organisations. Retention and deletion periods follow the relevant legal requirements and other periods, such as those relating to statutory warranties, guarantees or changes in business relationships, and are listed in the record of processing activities.

Our databases are protected by technical and organisational measures that restrict access to specifically authorised persons. Our information system is behind a software firewall to prevent access from other networks connected to the internet. Only employees who need the information to perform a particular task are given access to personal information.
